“ The best mom anyone could ever have. You showed nothing but love to everyone. You had the most purest heart of anyone I have ever seen. Thank you for all you taught us, and for all your prayers. You are now at Home in Heaven with your Lord and Savior, Jesus Christ. You made it mom, you made it Home! I plan to see you again. As you always said, “I love you, with all of my heart.”
Blessed are the pure in heart: for they shall see God.

“ So many many memories... you were always there in our life since the beginning... always making us laugh every chance you got. I loved your sense of humor, and the way you would always say "Oh, Lord" when something was shockingly funny. Oh and the stories you would tell were the best! You had the talent to take us with you on that story telling journey as if we were right there with you... no picture book needed... you painted that picture in our minds. You loved cooking for your family, it made you so happy and proud... and I know that is who I get that from, because I feel the same, oh, and no one can cook like you... no one... one of my favorite memories was when me and Manda stayed the night with you while Grandpa was away and we watched The Beatles movies and we all laughed so hard we cried and you said your infamous "Oh, Lord, I'm gonna wet" and that set us off into a laughing frenzy all over again. You will be greatly missed, but you are at peace now... and that gives me peace... I will forever hold you in my heart. I love you Grandma

“ She would say, " oh I'm so glad Tishas coming today, she makes me laugh so hard. Laughing is healthy " she loved the laughter.

“ You were a remarkable woman. You and I sat for hours together. I learned so many things from you. About people, life , Love, God. Realizing we are not to understand the, why's. God has a plan.

You at 90 did what most don't. You had a Facebook account my husband was so proud of. You also navigated your own cellphone. You stayed in touch with your family and friends. It was funny everynight you would call us to say goodnight from the same house, it was cute. I loved the way you would go around singing all the time. Going shopping was fun. The first time you drove the electric cart at Walmart, that was a treat. But you mastered that too. You were unique. You will be greatly missed. I love you. Your work is done. God Speed

“ God walked the dark hills with you, ushered you into His throne room through your prayers, carried you to great heights in praise & worship, & has now welcomed you into the portals of your eternal home. You have left us with countless, precious memories. You loved your family so deeply, but your love was never more greatly displayed than in your prayers. You prayed with such a fervent love, fiercely confronting every adversary on behalf of those you loved. You never failed to encourage your family to follow Jesus, because you would have done anything to spare your loved ones from the pitfalls of life and the pain that results when we fall into them. You knew what it was like to live without Christ as Lord, and the benefits of living for Him. Even though you have left your earth-tent behind, I have no doubt that your prayers are alive at work for your family today and always will be. You've left a legacy that can never die, and without a doubt it was your desire that the faith you came to know and love be passed on through your future generations. Thank you for the love and faith you shared, and I look forward with great anticipation to seeing you again on the other side. Until then, you are greatly missed and cherished.

“ The best grandma that ever lived. So lucky I had so many talks with you. I had the honor to know you as a child up until now. You were at all my kids birthdays every year. I already miss you grandma. I will see you again. I love you forever
